To Whom It May Concern:

As Executive Director of the University of Memphis Public Safety Institute, and President of the Memphis Shelby County Crime Commission, I'm hopeful that Workforce Investment Network will be awarded this valuable grant of technical assistance and financial support from Sorenson Impact Center and Social Finance in support of the PFS Recidivism Reduction Demonstration Project.

Add anything you want here about the importance of offender re-entry and your role as Commissioner of public safety for the state and how we need quality outcomes for reducing recidivism that are scalable. You might want to say that you led the public safety plan that has social impact bonds as a recommendation for financing innovations in this area.

My office will provide full support for this project as needed and we look forward especially to ensuring its future scalability throughout Shelby County and the state of Tennessee.
